"Looking Ahead from Katrina"

By

John R. Logan, Ph.D.
Department of Sociology
Brown University

Friday, April 21, 2006 at 3:30 pm
Life Sciences Research Building Auditorium
2nd Floor
University at Albany

Dr. John R. Logan is Professor of Sociology and Director of the initiative on Spatial Structures in the Social Sciences at Brown University. Until summer 2004 he was Distinguished Professor of Sociology at the University at Albany, SUNY, as well as Director of the Lewis Mumford Center for Comparative Urban and Regional Research. His books include Urban Fortunes: The Political Economy of Place (California 1987), Beyond the City Limits: Urban Policy and Economic Restructuring in Comparative Perspective (Temple 1990), and The New Chinese City: Globalization and Market Reform (Blackwell 2002). He is a member of the editorial boards of Journal of Urban Affairs and City and Community. He also founded the Urban China Research Network, supported by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. His latest research project on “Katrina and the Built Environment: Spatial and Social Impacts” is funded by the National Science Foundation.

(Reception Immediately Following)